About Us

With more than three decades of remarkable experience in the fuel market, the Mahle Group stands out for its robust and diversified trajectory in different sectors. Since its foundation, the group has consolidated its presence with more than 50 gas stations strategically located in urban areas and highways, spread across five Brazilian states: Paraná, Santa Catarina, Minas Gerais, Pará and Goiás. The verticalization of operations is evidenced by its own fuel carrier, ensuring efficiency and reliability in supply.

With an entrepreneurial vision that transcends borders, the Mahle Group has expanded its horizons into international trade through M4hl3 Trade. This initiative reflects the group's commitment to customer proximity, transparency in negotiations and the offering of a comprehensive portfolio of services and solutions in International Trade.

In addition to its consolidated presence in the energy sector and global trade, the Mahle Group diversifies its investments in the entertainment sector, with hotel developments, and in gastronomy, with renowned bars and restaurants. Each project is a reflection of the group's philosophy, which seeks to offer exceptional experiences and services of unquestionable quality.

With a history of success and an eye always focused on the future, the Mahle Group continues to expand its horizons, driven by a passion for innovation and a commitment to excellence.

Our story

MAHLE REDE DE POSTOS is a holding company with more than 30 years of experience in the market that offers the highest quality fuels. It has a broad structure: more than 1,000 employees in 50 gas stations focused on providing the best experience, in addition to distribution, in gastronomy, entertainment and the export of fuels and goods.

Engaged with the global needs for raw materials, one of the group's companies stands out for its incisive performance in the import and export of fundamental inputs from the agricultural, livestock, mineral and environmental sectors. This action not only strengthens Brazil's industrial production chain, but also meets the demands of international markets.

By establishing a trustworthy business relationship with overseas investors, Mahle Holding has designed an international business network that will undoubtedly be one of the strongest business networks in the next two years.

About the administration

It is interesting to see the growth and diversification of business within the Mahle Group, with its three family operations in Paranaguá, Ponta Grossa and Blumenau. Each of these units appears to have a significant presence in different sectors, such as gas stations, hotels, transport companies and now in the international trade segment.

Each family management appears to have a unique expansion and diversification strategy, adapting to market opportunities. Entry into international trade can open doors to new growth opportunities and further strengthen the Mahle Group's position in the market. The significant number of gas stations, combined with other sectors, creates a solid foundation for the group. Commitment to business diversity can provide resilience in an ever-changing marketplace.
